I. TRANSPORT CONDITIONS

1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

The general provisions include provisions relating to passenger transport, timetables and tickets.

1.1. PASSENGER TRANSPORT

Passengers are transported:

- in regular trains running according to the prescribed timetable
- in special trains that HŽPP puts into service as needed
- in special trains or carriages ordered by a natural/legal person.

1.2. TIMETABLE

The timetable with the data necessary for the running of trains shall be prepared by the infrastructure manager and published in the form of an excerpt from the timetable for passengers at all official places provided for passenger reception and dispatch. HŽPP shall publish the timetable in electronic form on its website.

Official place means a station or a stop where trains stop for the reception and dispatch of passengers.

1.3. CONTRACT OF CARRIAGE

The contract of carriage is a contract of railway carriage by which the carrier undertakes to transport the passenger from the starting point to the destination, and the passenger undertakes to pay the carrier the appropriate ticket price.

1.4. TICKETS

A ticket is a document by which a passenger proves the existence of a contract of carriage, regardless of its form. The ticket can be issued in paper or electronic form (e-ticket/record on smart card).

The existence of a contract of carriage can also be proven in another way (vouchers, certified HŽPP certificates).

1.4.1. Ticket Types

The basic ticket types are:

a) one-way ticket - ticket for one-way travel from the starting point to the official destination place

b) return ticket - ticket for travel from the departure to the official destination place and back:

- for a transport route that is the same on departure and return;
- for a transport route where the transport route is different on departure and return;
- for a transport route where the departure destination is not the return destination.

c) subscription ticket - a ticket for an unlimited number of trips on a certain route during a certain period (15-day, 30-day, monthly or annual)

In addition to basic types of tickets, you can also buy:

- an additional ticket for a higher tariff/carriage class train;
- a reservation ticket;

- on the train.

For the purposes of travel of employees of legal entities, tickets are sold on the basis of a contract concluded with HŽPP.

Tickets can be purchased in pre-sale no earlier than two months before the intended trip.

A ticket purchased in pre-sale, the price of which is changed by the first day of the validity period, is used by the passenger without any additional charge or refund of the price difference.

Tickets for travel on any route are sold at the ticket offices.

Regular ticket prices per sales channels are determined by Tariff 103.

In the event that the train attendant needs to determine the identity of the passenger for the purpose of exercising the benefit, collecting damages, charging the tariff allowance and other, in accordance with the Act on Safety and Interoperability of the Railway System (OG 63/20), they may request an identification document for inspection from the passenger.

1.6. TICKET PRICES

Ticket prices are expressed in euros. In the case of tickets purchased on the basis of a benefit, the benefits do not add up. The most favourable benefit applies to the passenger.

Ticket prices are determined on the basis of the tariff distance from Tariff 102 and the corresponding table of regular or reduced transport prices from Tariff 103.

Ticket prices may vary depending on sales channels (ticket office, online, ticket machines and train) in accordance with Tariff 103.

1.7. TICKET VALIDITY PERIODS

1.7.1. Validity Period

The validity period starts at 00:01 on the day indicated on the ticket as the first day of the validity period. The passenger can start the journey on any day within the validity period of the ticket, but as a rule, it must be completed no later than midnight on the last day of the validity period.

If the passenger starts the journey on the last day of the ticket validity period by a train that will arrive at the destination the next day according to the timetable, then the validity period of the ticket is extended until the arrival of the train at the destination without special confirmation.

1.7.2. One-Way Tickets

One-way tickets are valid:

until Monday, i.e. the day after the holiday/non-working day at 24:00. If holidays/non-working days and weekends add up or overlap, then the validity period runs from the beginning of the holiday/non-working day to the end of the weekend or vice versa or from the beginning of one weekend to the end of the other.

The validity period of tickets for which the starting point of return is different, thus making one direction longer than 100 km, is 6 days.

1.7.4. Validity Period of the Basis for the Use of the Benefit Validity period of the basis for the use of the benefit is specified in Chapter III. Benefits. The ticket purchased on the basis of the use of a benefit is valid until the last day of the validity period of that basis at the latest.

1.7.6. Extension of the Ticket Validity Period

Ticket validity periods may be extended:

- a) for tickets valid for one day - the journey that started that day can be completed without special confirmation the next day by the same or first connecting train;

1.8. COMMON PROVISIONS FOR SUBSCRIPTION TICKETS

a) Lost subscription ticket

The buyer is not entitled to compensation for the loss of the subscription ticket, nor is a replacement ticket issued for it. A lost smart card with a written subscription card is invalidated. In place of the lost smart card, a new card is issued with a new profile charge, and the subscription card must be purchased again.

b) Passenger without a valid subscription ticket

A passenger with a subscription ticket is considered not to have a valid ticket if:

- another person travels with the subscription card, and not the person in whose name the ticket is;
- if the subscription card is damaged so that the necessary data on it cannot be discerned.

In these cases, the subscription ticket shall be withdrawn at the time of review, and the provision of item 3 and item 3.4 of this Tariff shall be acted upon. of Tariff 103.

c) Reimbursement

The reimbursement for the subscription ticket shall be refunded for the time during which the passenger cannot or does not want to use the ticket.

Calculation of reimbursement per 30-day and 15-day subscription tickets is done by dividing the price of the subscription ticket by the number of days for which the ticket is valid. The resulting amount is multiplied by the number of unused days.

15-day tickets cannot be returned as unused from the 11th day of validity, and 30-day tickets from the 21st day of validity.

The calculation of the reimbursement per monthly and semi-monthly subscription tickets is done by dividing the price of the subscription ticket by the number of days for which the ticket is valid. The resulting amount is multiplied by the number of unused days.

Half-monthly subscription tickets cannot be returned as unused from the 11th to the 15th day or from the 26th day to the last day of the month, and monthly subscription tickets cannot be returned as unused from the 21st day to the last day of the month.

The calculation of the reimbursement per annual subscription tickets is done by dividing the price of the annual subscription ticket by the number of months, and the resulting amount is multiplied by the number of unused months. The amount of the price for a partially used month is obtained when the amount for that month is divided into 30 days, and the resulting amount is multiplied by the number of unused days. The sum of the amount of unused months and days gives the amount of the reimbursement.

The request for exercising the rights of passengers shall be submitted in accordance with the User Instructions available at www.hzpp.hr no later than 14 days from the date when the inability to continue using the ticket occurred. Reimbursement may only be claimed by the passenger who paid for the ticket and, in the event of their death, by their legal successors. For tickets paid with a payment order or on the basis of a billing receipt/purchase order, only the natural/legal person who settled the debt may claim reimbursement. Other persons may submit an application if they attach a power of attorney or an assignment.

Item 4.3 of this Tariff shall apply to the amount of the reimbursement.

A passenger who has purchased a subscription ticket, but does not have it with them when traveling, is entitled to a refund of the price of the purchased ticket for that trip if they subsequently prove that they had a purchased subscription ticket in their name at the time of travel. The request is submitted in accordance with the User Instructions available at www.hzpp.hr.
